Objective:

The main purpose of webinar is to aware the students about making investment in mutual funds In the current day and age, investing in mutual funds has become far simpler than it was about two decades ago. Investment can be done online through the paperless route, and the minimum amount of money that you need to have to invest in mutual funds can be as low as Rs.100. Considering the fact that we live in a world where our financial objectives and ambitions have a lot more clarity in comparison with the times in which our predecessors lived, it is easier to set your targets and achieve them over a period of time.
