“LIBRARY DAY CELEBRATED ENTHUSIASTICALLY IN YASHWANTRAO BHONSALE COLLEGE OF PHARMACY”

Dr S.R Ranganathan's birthday i.e on 12th August 1892 this day is celebrated as national librarians day. Dr. S.R Ranganathan is known as the father of librarian. The existence of library was brought up by this great man and gave a new meaning to this by forming up separate branch of library. He gave the milestones to the librarian branch and also the basic working protocols and principles for the day to day working of the library in which the five basic points were highlighted.

So overall Dr.S.R Ranganathan was responsible for such a great revolution in India and that is why his birthday is celebrated as the “National librarians day”. By taking this opportunity on this auspicious occasion Yashwantrao bhonsale college of pharmacy celebrated the national librarians day. On this day different enthusiastic activities and also the power pack creative activities like cover sketching and mini book making on a competitive level were taken.

Huge number of participants amongst the students of pharmacy had actively participated, which gave a proper outcome of creativity, skills and knowledge.

The programme was inaugurated by the Executive Chairman of Bhonsale Knowledge City, Shri Atchyut Sawant Bhonsale sir, and secretary Shri Sanjeev Desai sir by lightening the auspicious lamp and giving us the good wishes and regards for the programme to be conducted year after year. The presence of the coordinator Mrs Sunetra Phatak ma'am, Principal of Yashwantrao Bhonsale College of Pharmacy Dr. Vijay.A. Jagtap sir and Principal of D.Pharmacy college Mr. Rukari Sir had created the environment of motivation for the students. The compering was done by Asst Prof Miss Ekta.E.Samant and the welcome honour was given by the Librarian Mr. Amit Lakhe.
